PROFILE

Prior to joining Macadam Forbes, Clayton earned his degree in Corporate Finance from the Haas School of Business at UC Berkeley. While attending Berkeley, he gained valuable experience while working in asset management at the real estate investment fund, Belveron LLC. He combines his experience in real estate investment with a finance background to truly understand the financial implications of real estate transactions, ultimately resulting in better deals for all parties.

As a native to the Portland area, Clayton utilizes market knowledge and long-standing relationships to achieve the real estate goals of his clients.
