PROFILE

Since 2001, Dann has been active in the sales and leasing of industrial, office, retail, and investment properties throughout the Portland market, as well as investment sales nationally. His MBA as well as his experience as a commercial property owner, and initial real estate experience in an investment sales-only brokerage, have given him the tools for in-depth financial analysis. These tools are balanced by his 25 years of experience in the mental health field, which honed his communication skills and his focus on the needs of his clients.

Dann prides himself on thorough research to assist his clients in making informed decisions; creative problem solving / finding ways to get challenging deals done; and maintaining high ethical standards.

Dann is a strong lung cancer advocate. He lobbies our state and national Congress regarding lung cancer issues, sits on several national committees, has a lung cancer blog, and does public speaking nationally. He is also author of the book Second Wind: Thriving With Cancer.
